Other Neighborhood News:

- Site work has begun on the corner of Fern Creek and Colonial for apartment building with some artist live work units, a mural and some public art along Colonial. The apartments will face colonial and a parking garage will be in the rear of the building.
- The church on North Hampton is developing both the church and the parsonage. The replat is to build tandem units on each lot with a center driveway. They have included 4 drainage swales. The properties are not in the historic district. The demo permit has not moved forward and expires on 11/19/21. We're trying to follow the process.
- The Annual Lighting Ceremony planning is underway. Dates and times are forthcoming.
- A couple of neighbors have volunteered to keep an eye on the bridge and cover graffiti if the city provides paint.
- Mills and South Street project has not submitted anything due to concerns regarding drainage improvements.

Financial Update-

- We started the quarter with about $4,200. During the year we incurred about $230 of expenses made up of our website subscription and P.O. Box. We received $72 in membership dues. The current account balance as of September 30, 2021 is about $4,000.

Other Neighborhood Concerns:

- Mills and South Street project has not submitted anything possibly because of regarding drainage improvements.
- There was a question regarding coyotes. City does not do any wild animal control. The coyotes fall under Fish and Wildlife Commission. Make sure you do not leave any food out and keep your pets inside especially from dusk to dawn.
- There was a concern regarding a section of sidewalk missing for over a month east of Hampton and west of Forest Street where a new house is being built. Commissioner Sheehan said to email her. Update-Commissioner emailed the city departments and it has been put back.
